“The Researchers' Writing Academy has helped me understand in a tangible way how to communicate my research through storytelling. I already got a R&R! Before joining, I was questioning whether I belonged in academia... But I got so much confidence from the program, I'm now fully committed to my academic career.”

Dr Jourdan Davis, Assistant Professor,
University of North Carolina, US

The Researchers' Writing Academy helps you to:

- Speed up your writing through a structured process that will save you massive amounts of time for the rest of your career
- Reliably craft compelling narratives for your papers decreasing the chance of desk-rejects
- Learn how to communicate your research clearly + concisely for any journal and audience
- Clear your backlog of papers by steadily publishing in a calm way
- Commit to writing consistently because you enjoy it (even as a busy professor)

This is a good fit for you if:

- You do empirical research in the physical, health, life, environmental or social sciences
- You already have a backlog of papers waiting to be submitted or are ready to write your first one
- You are ready to implement a structured writing approach so you can stop sacrificing your private life to succeed in academia
- You are ready for your solid and interesting data to have meaningful impact in the world
- You are tired of dreading writing and want to start enjoying it (yes, that is possible!)

This isn't for academics who:

- Are in the humanities
- Are looking to oversell weak science
- Want to use AI tools to write the whole paper for them so they don't have to think
- Aren't ready for a 12-month commitment

“Writing a paper with co-authors is now a much smoother process. I can now write a draft in just 4 weeks! The other big change is that I’ve started to really enjoy writing.”

Dr Jia Ng, Assistant Professor,
Zucker School of Medicine, US

Here's what you get access to:

Journal Publication Formula

No-fluff self-paced online course that takes you step by step through the process to time-efficiently write a desk-rejection-proof paper. Includes templates, checklists and worksheets for each step.

Writing Feedback Calls

Receive tailored reviews on your writing, storyboards and figures and get all your questions answered during live Zoom calls 2x/month.

Member-only community

Get support, learn from and celebrate your wins with like-minded researchers from around the world.

Co-Writing

Commit to regular focused writing several times per week by writing with other members during our facilitated co-writing sessions.

Monthly Writing Planning Workshops

Have us walk you through creating a realistic and effective writing plan every month so you can hyperfocus on the needle-moving projects every time you sit down to write!

Weekly Accountability Check-Ins

Hit your writing goals every week with our Sunday planning prompts and personal Friday follow-ups.

Hey! I'm Dr Anna Clemens, the go-to academic writing coach for researchers who want to use a proven scientific storytelling framework to make it easy to get their papers published (and more enjoyable to read!).

My clients have gotten papers published in Nature Communications, Nature Materials, Chem Soc Rev, One Earth, ACS Nano, Cancer Research and other top journals.

Here's my promise to you: I won't ever waste your time. I'll give you the exact steps and tools you need to get published consistently.

“Thanks to the program I wrote and submitted 7 papers in 12 months. The accountability makes you put the content into practice. It's really powerful.”

Dr Kate McAlpine, Pracademic and research associate, Tanzania, UK and US
